A Massage from Master Alex

Thanks so much for downloading this "FENG SHUI Tips for 2023 - The Year of Water Rabbit " guide. My name is Master Alex Zi - Traditional and professional Feng Shui Master.

We are all suffering from an excruciatingly long pandemic season, which has had a massive impact on the majority of us, especially now that many issues have arisen, such as high inflation, high interest rates, a dynamic international situation, a potential recession...And it's completely understandable that it's not easy for everyone. Life can be challenging at times, but the storm will not last indefinitely. Our future remains hopeful and prosperous. It is preferable for us to remain strong and optimistic. And there is something we can do now, which is to put an end to the hatred and spread the love.

Feng Shui is a very ancient form of Chinese wisdom that entails exterior and interior design, landscape design, family member arrangement, and ENERGY MANAGEMENT, also known as "Qi." "Qi" is a type of intangible cosmic energy that has nothing to do with religion. Because Feng Shui is a form of wisdom, not religion, it should not conflict with your personal values.

If we can apply this ancient Feng Shui wisdom to our lives, it can help us improve our financial fortune, health, career path, relationship, intimacy, learning ability, and reputation, among other things. I hope you find this brief booklet useful.

Please visit www.masteralexzi.com to learn more about us and our services.

Disclaimer: This guide is solely for the purpose of general education and cultural exchange. Because everyone's BaZi (birth time and date), Palms' Reading, Face Reading and "Qi Xi" (something related to skin tone, mole, skin health level & more) are distinctive and each property's Feng Shui is unique, please contact the Master Alex team for additional assistance with your specific situation.

Feng Shui Guide for 2023

Before we go forward, keep in mind that in traditional Feng Shui, North is at the bottom and South is at the top. As a result, we have East on the left side as the left dragon. On the right hand side, we have West as a right tiger. It is just like flipping the map 180°.

Since February 4, 2023, the #4 flying star will enter the middle position, while the other eight flying stars will fly over their positions based on the Later Heaven Bagua Pattern. As a result, the flying stars Feng Shui setting for 2023 differs significantly from that of 2022.

Later Heaven Bagua

SE	S			SW
	4 Wood	9 Fire	2 Earth
E	3 Wood	5 Earth	7 Metal	W
	8 Earth	1 Water	6 Metal
NE	N			NW

North

This year, the #9 flying star is heading North. The official moniker for this #9 flying star is "You Bi." The five-element property embedded is fire energy. The #9 flying star is all about romance, happiness, and "Pian Cai." "Pian Cai" is a unique concept that is not synonymous with financial fortune. It refers to the good fortune associated with earning money through pure chance. #9 is extremely auspicious during the "8 Yun" period, ranking as the second most auspicious star, directly behind #8. However, in 2023, #9 will move to the North, which is originally associated with the water element, which will weaken #9's fire energy. As a result, we must use wood energy as a converter, converting the water element (North) into the wood element. We also need to add more fire element so that the wood element can further convert to fire element and contribute to the strength of #9 fire energy. Placing nine pieces of water bamboo in a red vase is an option that incorporates both wood and red elements. To further boost the fire's energy, you could add more lighting.

North East

The #7 flying star is traveling to the North East this year. The official moniker for this #7 flying star is "Po Jun." Metal energy is a five-element property that is incorporated. The #7 flying star is associated with thievery and robbery, which is unlucky for the "8 Yun" era.

The original five element for North East is Earth and for #7 is Metal which means that the destructive #7 bad luck money fortune energy will be amplified in 2023. Because water can weaken metal energy, we could leave a cup (preferably a larger one) of fresh water out and replace it on a daily basis. It would be beneficial.

Courtesy advise: No safe or investment proposal should be placed in this area.

East

This year, the #2 flying star is heading East. This #2 flying star's official name is "Ju Men." The five-element property embedded is Earth energy.

The number two flying star is all about illness and medical issues. We must take extra precautions during this pandemic season to counteract this extremely unlucky energy. We should do everything we can to avoid the East corner. The bedroom, front door, home office, and kitchen would all be located outside of this area in an ideal world. Please keep this area tidy and clean at all times. Check for the presence of any sharp objects. The fortunate thing for the East location is that the original five element is Wood, which may help weaken the destructive #2 Earth energy. To weaken #2 even further, we could add more metal decoration to the area to counteract the unlucky earth energy.

This year, "Tai Sui" is located at E2 section. We should avoid any construction and decoration. Also, please keep it extra clean and tidy.

One final piece of advice: do not include your medical result in the East.

South East

The #3 flying star is heading south-east this year. This #3 flying star's official name is "Lu Cun." Wood energy is one of the five elemental properties embodied. The #3 flying star represents conflict and litigation, which is unlucky for the "8 Yun" period. Because the original five for the South East is also Wood, it will assist in amplifying the destructive #3 Wood energy. Please add more Fire element here so that the bad luck #3 Woody energy can be burned away. More red decorations, such as red cushions, red carpets, red paintings, and more lighting, are appropriate. We could also position a round Himalayan Salt Lamp in this direction and leave it on all day. The reason for using a round shape is that round shapes are associated with metal energy, which may help to suppress the unlucky wood energy even further. Furthermore, because there is no sharp angle for round sharp, no unlucky incisive "Sha Qi" (unlucky energy) is involved. Because the salt lamp is made of earth energy, it will attract and repel any negative woody energy, thereby weakening woody energy. Furthermore, the constant lighting 24 hours a day provides enough fire energy to extinguish the unfavorable woody energy.

South

The #8 flying star will travel to the South in 2023. This #8 flying star's official name is "Zuo Fu." Its five elemental property is related to the Earth. The #8 flying star is all about money and is the best during the "8 Yun" period. To improve your financial situation, you must involve this flying star. The South's original five element is Fire, which may help to enhance the lucky #8 Earth energy. You could put a water fountain here to improve your financial fortune. If you are using it in a residential setting, the water flow should be directed toward your bed; if you are using it in a commercial setting, the water flow should be directed toward your desk; and if you are using it in a retail store, the water flow MUST be directed toward the cashier. The water flow should not be directed toward the restroom, front door, or window. The water fountain's water quality must be maintained at all times. Please ensure that the water pump is running at the quietest setting possible.

South West

This year, the #1 flying star is traveling to the South West. "Tan Lang" is the official moniker for this #1 flying star. Its five elemental characteristics are all associated to Water. It has to do with romance, reputation, and academics. It is fortunate to be within the #8 in charge period (20 years period Flying Stars cycle, named as "8 Yun"), which starts in 2004 and ends in 2024. Earth is the original five element for the South West, and it has the potential to suppress the lucky #1 Water Energy. As a result, we must introduce the Metal element, which may weaken the Earth element while simultaneously generating the Water element. We could also use Water element to boost the #1 Water energy. Using a metal cup to hold fresh water and changing it every day. Or you could place a fish tank here. It could be useful.

West

The #6 flying star is heading West this year. This #6 flying star's official name is "Wu Qu." Metal energy is made up of five elements. The reputation, advancement within the discipline force, travel, and change are all important to the #6 flying star. That's good news for the "8 Yun" period. Metal is the first of the five elements for the West, and it may help to boost the lucky #6 Metal energy. We could add more metal elements here to boost the auspicious metal energy even more. We could also include an Earth element to generate auspicious Metal energy. However, because of the "3 Killings" and "Sui Po," we must use this flying star with extreme caution this year. Please keep those areas clean and clear at all times. Ascertain that there is no unnecessary movement or disturbance in this area.

North West

This year, the #5 flying star is in the North West house. This #5 flying star's official name is "Lian Zhen." Earth energy is made up of five elements. The #5 flying star represents tragedy and disaster. It has the greatest destructive potential. Metal is the original five element for the North West, and it may help to weaken the destructive #5 Earth energy. We could add more metal elements here to help mitigate the negative effect. We have certainly made an effort to limit our use of this area.

Central

This year, the #4 flying star is located at the center of your house. This #4 flying star's official name is "Wen Qu." Wood energy is a five-element embodied property. The #4 flying star represents romance, education, and advancement, all of which are favorable during the "8 Yun" period. The lucky #4 Wood energy will be suppressed by Earth, the original five element for the middle. Placing four pieces of water bamboo in this area could help to amplify the lucky Wood's energy.

2024 Flying star

"3 Killings," "Tai Sui," and "Sui Po"

All those flying stars, "3 Killings," "Tai Sui," and "Sui Po," will relocate every year. We will expand on this later.

Feng Shui Tips for Increasing Business and Abundance in 2023

Water Fountain

Placing a water fountain in the South and/or North is a tried-and-true method of increasing your financial fortune. There are, however, a few points to which you should pay special attention.

- If you are using it in a residential setting, the direction of the water flow MUST be adjusted toward your bed; if you are using it in a commercial setting, the direction of the water flow MUST be adjusted toward your chair; if you are using it in a retail store, the direction of the water flow MUST be adjusted toward the cashier.
- The direction of the water flow should not be toward the restroom, front door, or window.
- The water quality of the water fountain must be maintained at all times.
- Please ensure that the water pump is operating at the lowest possible noise level.

A Painting Depicting the Sun

Hanging appropriate paintings in your home or office can not only enhance the aesthetics of the space, but also your wealth and overall luck.

A painting depicting the sun is quite appropriate, as the sun is brimming with energy and has the potential to bring us hope and happiness. Here's a query. A photograph of a sun, but we have no idea whether it is rising or setting.

If you conduct regular business, I recommend hanging the sun image on the East side, implying a sun rise. A pleasant morning greets you, and you have an entire energetic day ahead of you to complete your tasks.

If you are performing an unusual act. Assume your business is a nightclub, bar, or any other type of business that requires nighttime operations. The sun image should be hung on the West side. Because once the sun has set, it is nighttime, and your business is about to begin.

You can choose a picture of a mature wheat field because it symbolizes the harvesting of your business, especially if your zodiac sign is Rat, Ox, Rabbit, Horse, Goat, Rooster, or Pig.

A Painting of the Bridge and the Water

If your job requires you to act as a middleman, salesperson, or in any other capacity that requires you to bring two other parties together. The following image, which features a bridge and water, is an excellent choice.

Consider this photograph of the Golden Gate Bridge. To begin, water is associated with financial fortune in traditional Feng Shui. Thus, a photograph of deep, still, clean, and clear water denotes good financial fortune. And this Golden Gate Bridge is particularly significant, as it implies your role as this bridge. You connect the buyer and seller (or two parties) and complete the transaction. You, like the Golden Gate Bridge, value steel that is strong, solid, dependable, and long-lasting.

In 2023, you could hang this image on the North. As the #9 flying star will travel to the North. During the "8 Yun" period, the #9 flying star is extremely auspicious, ranking as the second most auspicious star, directly behind #8. And it is in charge of the "Pian Cai," a novel concept that is not synonymous with financial prosperity. It is a term that refers to the good fortune that comes with earning money solely by chance. To assist you in your middle man role, the #9 flying star will facilitate you in closing the deal and amassing a large fortune.

Home Office Feng Shui Tips for 2023

Before we discuss Feng Shui for the home office, it is necessary to review the fundamentals of the Feng Shui concept. Four Ancient Animals are the foundation of Feng Shui.

Historically, Traditional Feng Shui was primarily concerned with the "Yin House," which is the tomb or grave in which filial children and grandchildren bury their deceased elders, parents, or grandparents in the auspicious Feng Shui location known as the "Long Xue" (the auspicious energy point). Thus allowing their bodies to rest in a comfortable position. After a long period of development, Feng Shui now focuses primarily on the "Yang House," that is the space occupied by living beings, which includes residential, commercial, retail and industrial properties. However, the fundamental principle of the Four Ancient Animals continues to apply.

"Long Xue" is surrounded and protected by the East dragon in the left hand side; the West tiger in the right hand side; the front phoenix in the anterior; and the rear "Xuan Wu" (which is a creature combine the turtle and snake together) in the back as support. So for your home office setting, it is better to fulfil this Four Ancient Animals concept.

To better understand the concept of the Four Ancient Animals, we could examine the following chairs.

On the left are chairs without a back or arms, which are considered to be Bad Feng Shui chairs. Why? Consider that you must sit in those chairs for the duration of your day. What are your thoughts? Perhaps you will soon experience backache. Nowadays, an increasing number of fast food restaurants and coffee shops feature chairs similar to this one. Why? Because they don't want you to spend the entire day here. They desire an increase in transactions.

On the right is a standard office chair with a supportive back and comfortable arms. You could sit in this chair for an extended period of time and still feel comfortable, as it is considered a good Feng Shui chair. And this office chair is an excellent illustration of the concept of the Four Ancient Animals.

Back Support

The back support is critical for our home office. Without the back support, similar to how you are seated in the above left hand side chair, you are extremely uncomfortable. Here are a few points to consider:

- Your home office's back wall should be solid. It is inadvisable to have a window directly behind you. Allowing someone to walk behind you is also inappropriate, as they will disturb you and jeopardize your own privacy.
- A book shelf brimming with books relevant to your profession is appropriate, particularly if you are an attorney, doctor, dentist, architect, accountant, or professor.... Because knowledge is the best ally you can have in your profession.
- You could also attach your professional certificates and licenses to the back, as these documents serve as proof of your profession.
- You can also place some round shape awards or awards without a sharp angle pointing at your back.
- Thank you letters or letters of appreciation are also an excellent choice for the back, as they serves as an affirmation of your previous efforts.

- A comfortable office chair with arms is critical.
- Ascertain that your left and right sides are free of active pathways or stairs, particularly upward stairs, as disruptions can easily occur and affect your working environment.

Desk & Front Phoenix

- If your seat is facing a wall, this is not a good choice because it will cause you unnecessary stress. Unnecessary strain or even anxiety may develop. When you read a traditional Kung Fu novel, you will discover that the master Shi Fu will punish his apprentice by forcing him to face a wall and review his error if the apprentice has committed a catastrophic mistake.
- If there is a window directly in front of your desk, it may help to broaden your vision and provide refreshment. If there is a view of the ocean, river, or swimming pool, this is ideal, as nice water is considered as money fortune in Feng Shui. Alternatively, if you have a garden view outside, this is not a bad option.
- Your desk should be neither too small nor too large. If the workspace is too small, you will lack sufficient space to work. If it is too large, it will take up unnecessary space.
- Avoid exposing any sharp objects, such as a sharp pencil, scissors, or letter opener, by covering their sharp edge or angle. It is a safety concern.
- A family photograph is one option for adorning your desk. Your family is unquestionably the source of your energy. You work extremely hard for a variety of reasons, one of which is that you want to provide the best for your lovely family. Thus, a family photograph can serve as a reminder to keep going. When you are exhausted, taking a look at your family photograph may re-energize you and enable you to continue fighting for your family's future.
- You could place your goal on your desk or directly in front of you. It acts as a motivator to keep you going.
- The Lucky Mascot is also appropriate to place in front of you, as it is your lucky source and will bring you positive energy.

Upstairs & Downstairs

This is something lots of people will ignore, but it is so important.

- Ensure that your direct upstairs is not a bathroom, as we do not want that filthy water to hit you hidey.
- Ensure that your direct downstairs is not a stove, as we do not want the stove fire to burn you hidey.

Additional Factors to Consider

- Your Home Office should not be too small, as you will require adequate workspace.
- Your Home Office should not be excessively large, as this will allow the auspicious "Qi" to escape.
- Your Home Office should not be completely devoid of windows.
- Sunlight should be allowed to enter.
- Ventilation should be adequate.
- Your Home Office should not have an excessive number of doors, as this will allow the auspicious "Qi" to escape.
- A door lock should be installed in your Home Office to safeguard your privacy and business secrets.
- Avoid placing the mirror too close to your desk.

- The ceiling should not be set too low, as this may result in unnecessary stress.
- If there are any leaks, please repair them immediately. Because it is detrimental to your financial fortune.
- In 2023, the best location for a home office are South, North and South West, due to the presence of the #8, #9 and #1 flying stars.
- The worst location are West, North West and East, as those area are occupied by "Three Killings", "Shi Po", #5 and #2 flying stars.

Business Meeting Feng Shui Tips for 2023

The underlying theory is based on a well-known date selection book. The original is as follows:

《廣盛曆》曰：“歲破者，太歲所衝之辰也。其地不可興造、移徙、嫁娶、遠行，犯者主損財物及害家長。惟戰伐向之吉。”

The following is a brief translation:

“Sui Po”, according to "Guang Sheng Li," is the polar opposite of "Tai Sui." It should be prohibited from constructing, relocating, marrying, or traveling long distances. The offenders will cause damage to their property and will cause distress to their parents. Fighting in this direction is the only feasible alternative."

In today's business battles, if we need to negotiate with an opponent, we would use the "Tai Sui" and "Sui Po" concepts to our advantage. Therefore, if you wish to arrange a meeting, you could seat in the auspicious "Tai Sui" direction of East in 2023. And coerce your adversary into taking the inauspicious "Sui Po" direction, which is West in 2023.

If you want to boost your luck even more, you can choose your own lucky time and date for the meeting to begin. Alternatively, contact us for assistance.

Master Bedroom Feng Shui Tips for 2023

Are you aware that your bed is critical in a Feng Shui setting? There is a well-known slogan in traditional Feng Shui that states: "The front door, bedroom, and kitchen are the most critical areas in a Feng Shui setting." As you might imagine, the average person sleeps eight hours per day. Which means that one-third of our time is spent in bed. We spend one-third of our lives in bed. Are you cognizant of how pivotal your bed is? Therefore, if our bed is Feng Shui compliant, we do not need to do anything other than lay down each night and bathe in a favorable Feng Shui atmosphere. That is incredible.

On the other hand, if your bed's Feng Shui element is miserable. Each and every night, you are afflicted by the heinous Feng Shui energy. One-third of your life is being tortured by this deplorable Feng Shui energy. It's heartbreaking. Please fit it for your own benefit.

Four Ancient Animals concept also applicable to your bed.

Back Support

Without a proper back support, your bed is similar to sitting in a chair without a backrests. It is highly impractical and would not last long; consequently, other issues may arise. Here are a few suggestions:

- Your bed requires a proper headboard.
- It is ideal to have a solid wall behind your bed for nighttime support.
- Unsatisfactory is a window on the back wall. Especially in the winter, even if you close all the windows behind you, you may always feel the wind shaking behind you for the full period of the night.
- Please ensure that there is no excessive movement behind that wall. That is a case in Hong Kong where I assisted my client with Feng Shui. There is a couple who constantly complain about having bad dreams and having difficulty sleeping at night. Feng Shui is not an issue in their master bedroom, as they have previously hired various Feng Shui masters. Finally, this couple hired me to assist them in resolving the issue. When I probe their back wall, I detect an abnormal vibration. Following a closer examination, the elevator shaft is located directly behind their back wall. As you might imagine, the elevator is constructed of steel and runs up and down behind you. The abrupt and rapid change in the electromagnetic field behind you will undoubtedly have an effect on you. And this is the primary reason they have a restless night's sleep every single night. The best course of action is to reposition their bed and redecorate their master bedroom.

- Picture should not hang at the back wall. If there is earthquake or the hang is not secured, the fallen picture frame is for sure a risk.

- As with the arm rests of your office chair, night stands on both sides with adequate lighting are recommended
- Warm lighting that is slightly yellow in color and has a 2700K color temperature rating is recommended for the bedroom because the warm and soothing glow it emits creates a mellow, relaxing environment. It's ideal for the most private area of your home. 3000K color temperature rating is ideal for living rooms, as it produces a soft white light and looks fantastic.
- Your bed should be accessible from both sides. It is a sign of respect for you and your spouse. We will calculate the optimal entering direction for your bed this year during our Advanced Feng Shui Consultation. It will boost your overall luck level even more.

Bed & Front Phoenix

- On top of your bed, a beam, a sloping ceiling, a bulky fan, and bulky lighting are all inappropriate. We don't want anything to disturb your sleep or cause you undue stress.
- If you cannot avoid a beam or a sloping ceiling. It'll still simply rest on top of your bed; a canopy bed is an excellent solution.

- At the end of the bed, if there is sufficient space, a bench is an excellent option. Not only does it provide additional convenience and seating space, but it also protects your bed by containing the auspicious "Qi."

Upstairs and Downstairs

Identical to the theory used in the home office session. Please refer to it for additional information.

Additional Factors to Consider

- Mirrors should not be kept near your bed.
- There should be no sharp objects in your bedroom.
- Avoid excessive use of cold materials, such as a massive marble rock desk.
- Holy relics, religious artifacts, or Buddha statues are not encouraged in your room. Given that your room is a private and intimate space, please store those holy relics in a dignified manner.
- Plants should not be kept in bedrooms because they will compete with you for oxygen during the night.
- Too colorful or grandiose is not appropriate for a bedroom, as the primary purpose is for you to rest.

Feng Shui Tips for Landscapes & Garden Designs in 2023

There is much to say about creating an enchanting outdoor space. Due to space constraints, we were only able to discuss a few noteworthy topics.

Cactus

Planting any spiny plant requires extreme caution, as we do not want anyone to be harmed by the prickles. In Asia, I occasionally use cactus as a Feng Shui element. The reason for using cactus is to conceal an odious object outside the front entrance. Thus, I will utilize the prickles on the cactus to expel negative energy. To protect those who use the pathway, a small plant will be placed on the side and a large plant at the back.

Multiple Levels

Various levels of landscape design have the potential to create a great deal of visual interest. However, there is one overarching principle: level up. The landscape should be the lowest layer on the outside. And it continues all the way up until we reach the end of your yard.

Plant Wall

It is a wise decision to secure your home for privacy and security reasons. This green wall contains living energy and can be used to add a living element to your home as well. Please ensure that the green wall does not have any empty spaces or withered leaves.

Climbing Plant

Overgrown climbing plants are a serious issue as they can accumulate an excessive amount of "Yin Qi," which is inauspicious energy. Numerous unexpected issues, such as an affair or financial loss, may arise.

Feng Shui Tips for Finding True Love in 2023

To the vast majority of us, love is absolutely necessary. We can combine #9 flying star and pink/red roses to increase our chances of meeting Mr or Mrs Right.

- Outside your house, if you live alone, you could plant some roses in the North section of your house this year. If you do not live alone, proceed with caution as you may not want to raise the overall loving energy directed toward other family members. Additionally, the annual #9 flying star is different each year. Planting roses in pots enables them to be easily relocated.
- This year, you could place fresh roses in the North corner of your own bedroom. The quantity of roses is exquisite; it corresponds to your BaZi.
- Fake flowers should be avoided because they are associated with relationships without a happy ending.
- Advanced Feng Shui Consultation or even Ultimate Feng Shui Consultation are excellent choices for further enhancing your own loving energy. Contact us for more details.

Feng Shui Tips for Harmony Family Relationship in 2023

Rectangular tables should be avoided in order to create a harmonious family atmosphere. Unnecessary stress may build up as you sit opposite a family member. As if two countries full of contradictions sat down to negotiate a trade deal. This type of confrontational relationship is obviously unsuitable for your family.

A round table is preferable for families that already have a lot of squabbles. You and your family members are seated next to each other. They are similar to your ally. Stress and conflict could be reduced.

The annual #3 flying star, which is the star of argument, should be suppressed even more. In 2023, more round shapes and metal items will be needed to fill the South East corner, as metal can inhibit the inauspicious woody element. More fire elements, such as warm lighting and red color items, should also be placed in the South East corner. It will aid in the burning of the inauspicious woody element.

Advanced Feng Shui Consultation

There are four aspects to consider when conducting a general Feng Shui consultation.

(1) External factors.

It is a comprehensive concept that takes into consideration the surrounding mountain, ocean, lake, river, swimming pool, overall community condition, road condition, neighborhood building condition, architectural and floor plan design, interior design, landscape design, and more.

(2) Qi

It is the energy flow. The Qi is managed primarily through the use of 24 Mountains and Flying Stars during this session.

(2A) 24 Mountains.

The South direction, for example, ranges from 157.6° to 202.5°. As a professional Feng Shui Master, I'll question how far South you're talking when you say your house is South Facing. Because the South is such a broad idea. We shall divide each direction into three little portions in order to calculate more precisely. South is divided into three sections: South 1, South 2, and South 3. Previously, the South direction was measured as being completely 45° wide. Now we'll move on to South 1, which has a total 15° measurement. It is more accurate. Naturally, you can obtain a more comprehensive Feng Shui setting through the Ultimate Feng Shui Consultation, which includes additional information on each section. Please visit our website for the Ultimate Feng Shui Consultation – "QI MEN DUN JIA" & "Xie Zi Fa" for additional information.

(2B) Flying Stars

One of the most effective Feng Shui tools is the 9 Flying Stars. The combination of Flying Stars below will be considered together.

- Later Heaven Bagua Flying Stars
- 20 Years Period Flying Stars
- Mountain Side Flying Stars
- Water Side Flying Stars
- Yearly Flying Stars

(2C) "Shen Sha"

Including yearly "Tai Sui", "Sui Po" & "3 Killings".

(3) Time & Date Selection.

If you have an important task to complete, selecting the most appropriate time and day is critical. It is unfortunate that people are prone to overlooking such an important instrument. If you choose an unlucky time to move into your lovely new home, you may find yourself in an unexpected situation. There is a chance that something will go wrong if you schedule your new business's grand opening at an inopportune time. In the event that you get married, have an operation, or go through a legal proceeding at an inauspicious time, who knows what kind of unexpected events may occur?

The importance of choosing the right time and date is vital since it will provide you with a bargaining chip for your success. But, more importantly, it must be compatible with your BaZi (your time and date of birth).

(4) Your BaZi.

In Feng Shui, a house is good, yet it may not be suitable for everyone. Does that make sense? Of course. Because every person is unique, our BaZi (birth time and date) are also unique. As a result, your BaZi must be calculated and matched to your home. As a result, the Feng Shui setup could be successful. Certain modifications will have to be made if this is not the case.
